

In the Woods

As I stepped on a branch, the sound echoed through the eerie wood into the fog. I heard wolves howling as if they were being whipped. The owls hooted like the wind. I felt the rough tree bark. It reminded me of my wooden cabin.

Hani Hamed, 5G