Leif Erikson was the son of Erik the red and he travelled across the world but he wasn't a human instead he was a god one of the mightiest god of them all. He was an older god so he was stronger than the new he transform in to more objects than three Lokis. He was looking for the mightiest enchanted spear in the hole universe but in Asgard there were only a normal spear instead of the mightiest enchanted spear so he turned in to an eagle and flew to Midgard to find the mythical spear. It began to rain and thunder from Thor made a rumbling sound and heal stone came down from the sky it bumped on the head of Leif. He needed a place to stay over for the night. Leif came across a strange mountain sight that hade a roof on that has been built. He was lucky that the roof was built so he went in the dark, damp mountain. When he went more into it the less air went in. He came across a glow in a room “What is that.” He said so he walked in .....the glow was a room that had giants trying to break the spear in the stone. The Leif the fearless fighter fought the giants in a guile the elder god Leif was smart than the giants. Leif turned in to a giant guard said “the king Thiatzi said you have to go back to the palace for the battle of the gods.” So they went and Leif got the spear but the giants came back and then the giant said “You can only get it if you do the giants a favour you have to give me the most valuable thing you have.”

Leif said “Ok” so in the night he summed the precious thing he had and that was the golden pot so he gave it to them. Odin found out and he was furious he sent Leif to the land of the giants Jutunheim for the rest of his life and that was the last thing I heard of.
