

Bond roared with fury as he saw Silva's car rush past very quickly. It looked like it screamed off to the city streets. Bond stomped his foot with rage; his hand ran through his hair.

Whilst Bond was looking around he spotted a black Jaguar car with customised number plate (M1). Creeping forward Bond tried and opened the handle and it opened for the first time. 'M' pulled the handle of the car and go in the backseat. At that moment the car flew past like a cheetah. He noticed that Silva was going underground, so he decided to go underground. He wiped the sweat off his head. Although he was covered with dirt and dust, he was just concentrating and focussing where he was going, what he was doing.

Although Silva was driving, he noticed Bond was following all the way through.

"Where are you taking me?" asked 'M' as she tried to stop Bond.

"I needed your car and also I need to take you to a safe place," answered Bond.

007

Bond dodged and turned around the corners, racing very fast to catch up. Suddenly Silva escaped and another car was behind him.