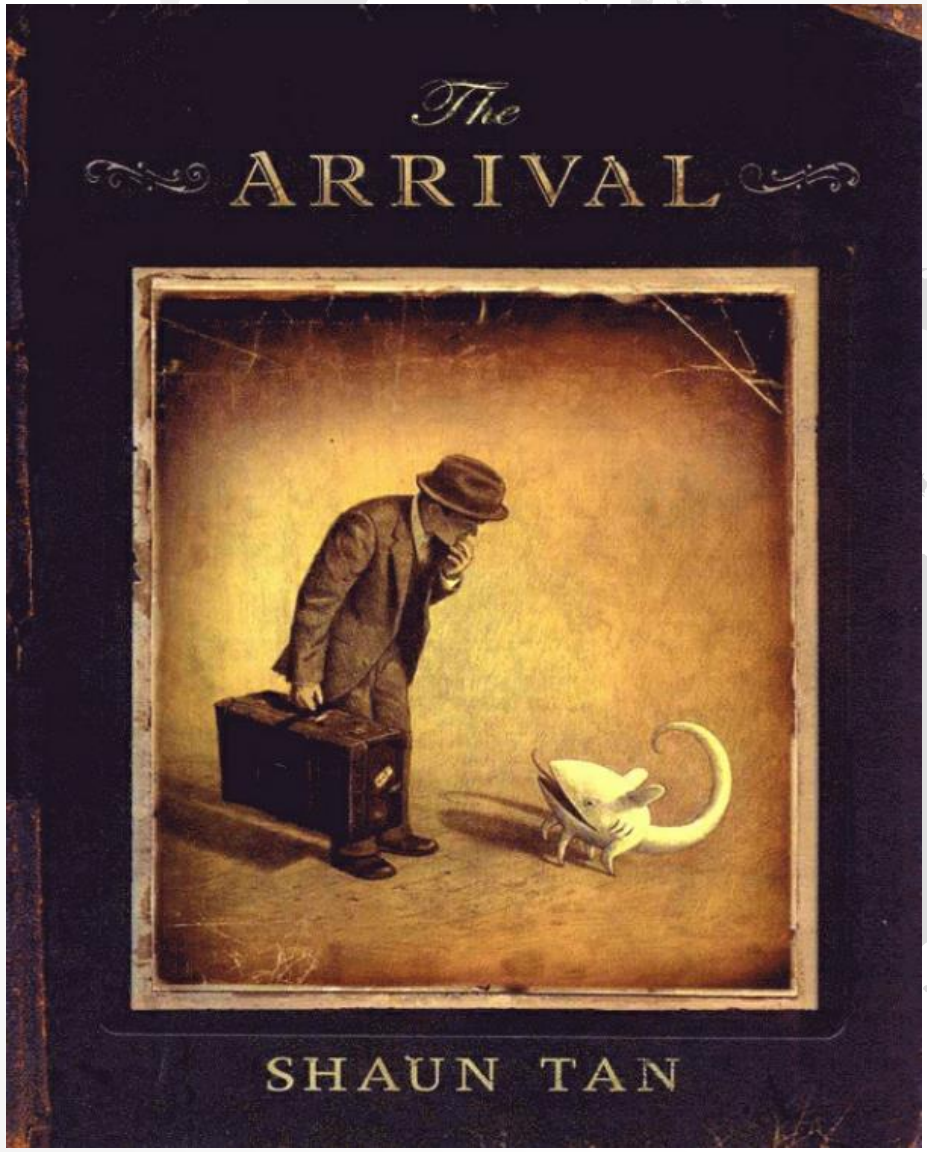
THE ARRIVAL WRITING: DAY 2

Shaun Tan



TO BE ABLE TO USE HYPERBOLE

Learning Objective

INTELLIGENT PRACTICE

- What do we want to use hyperbole for?

HYPERBOLE

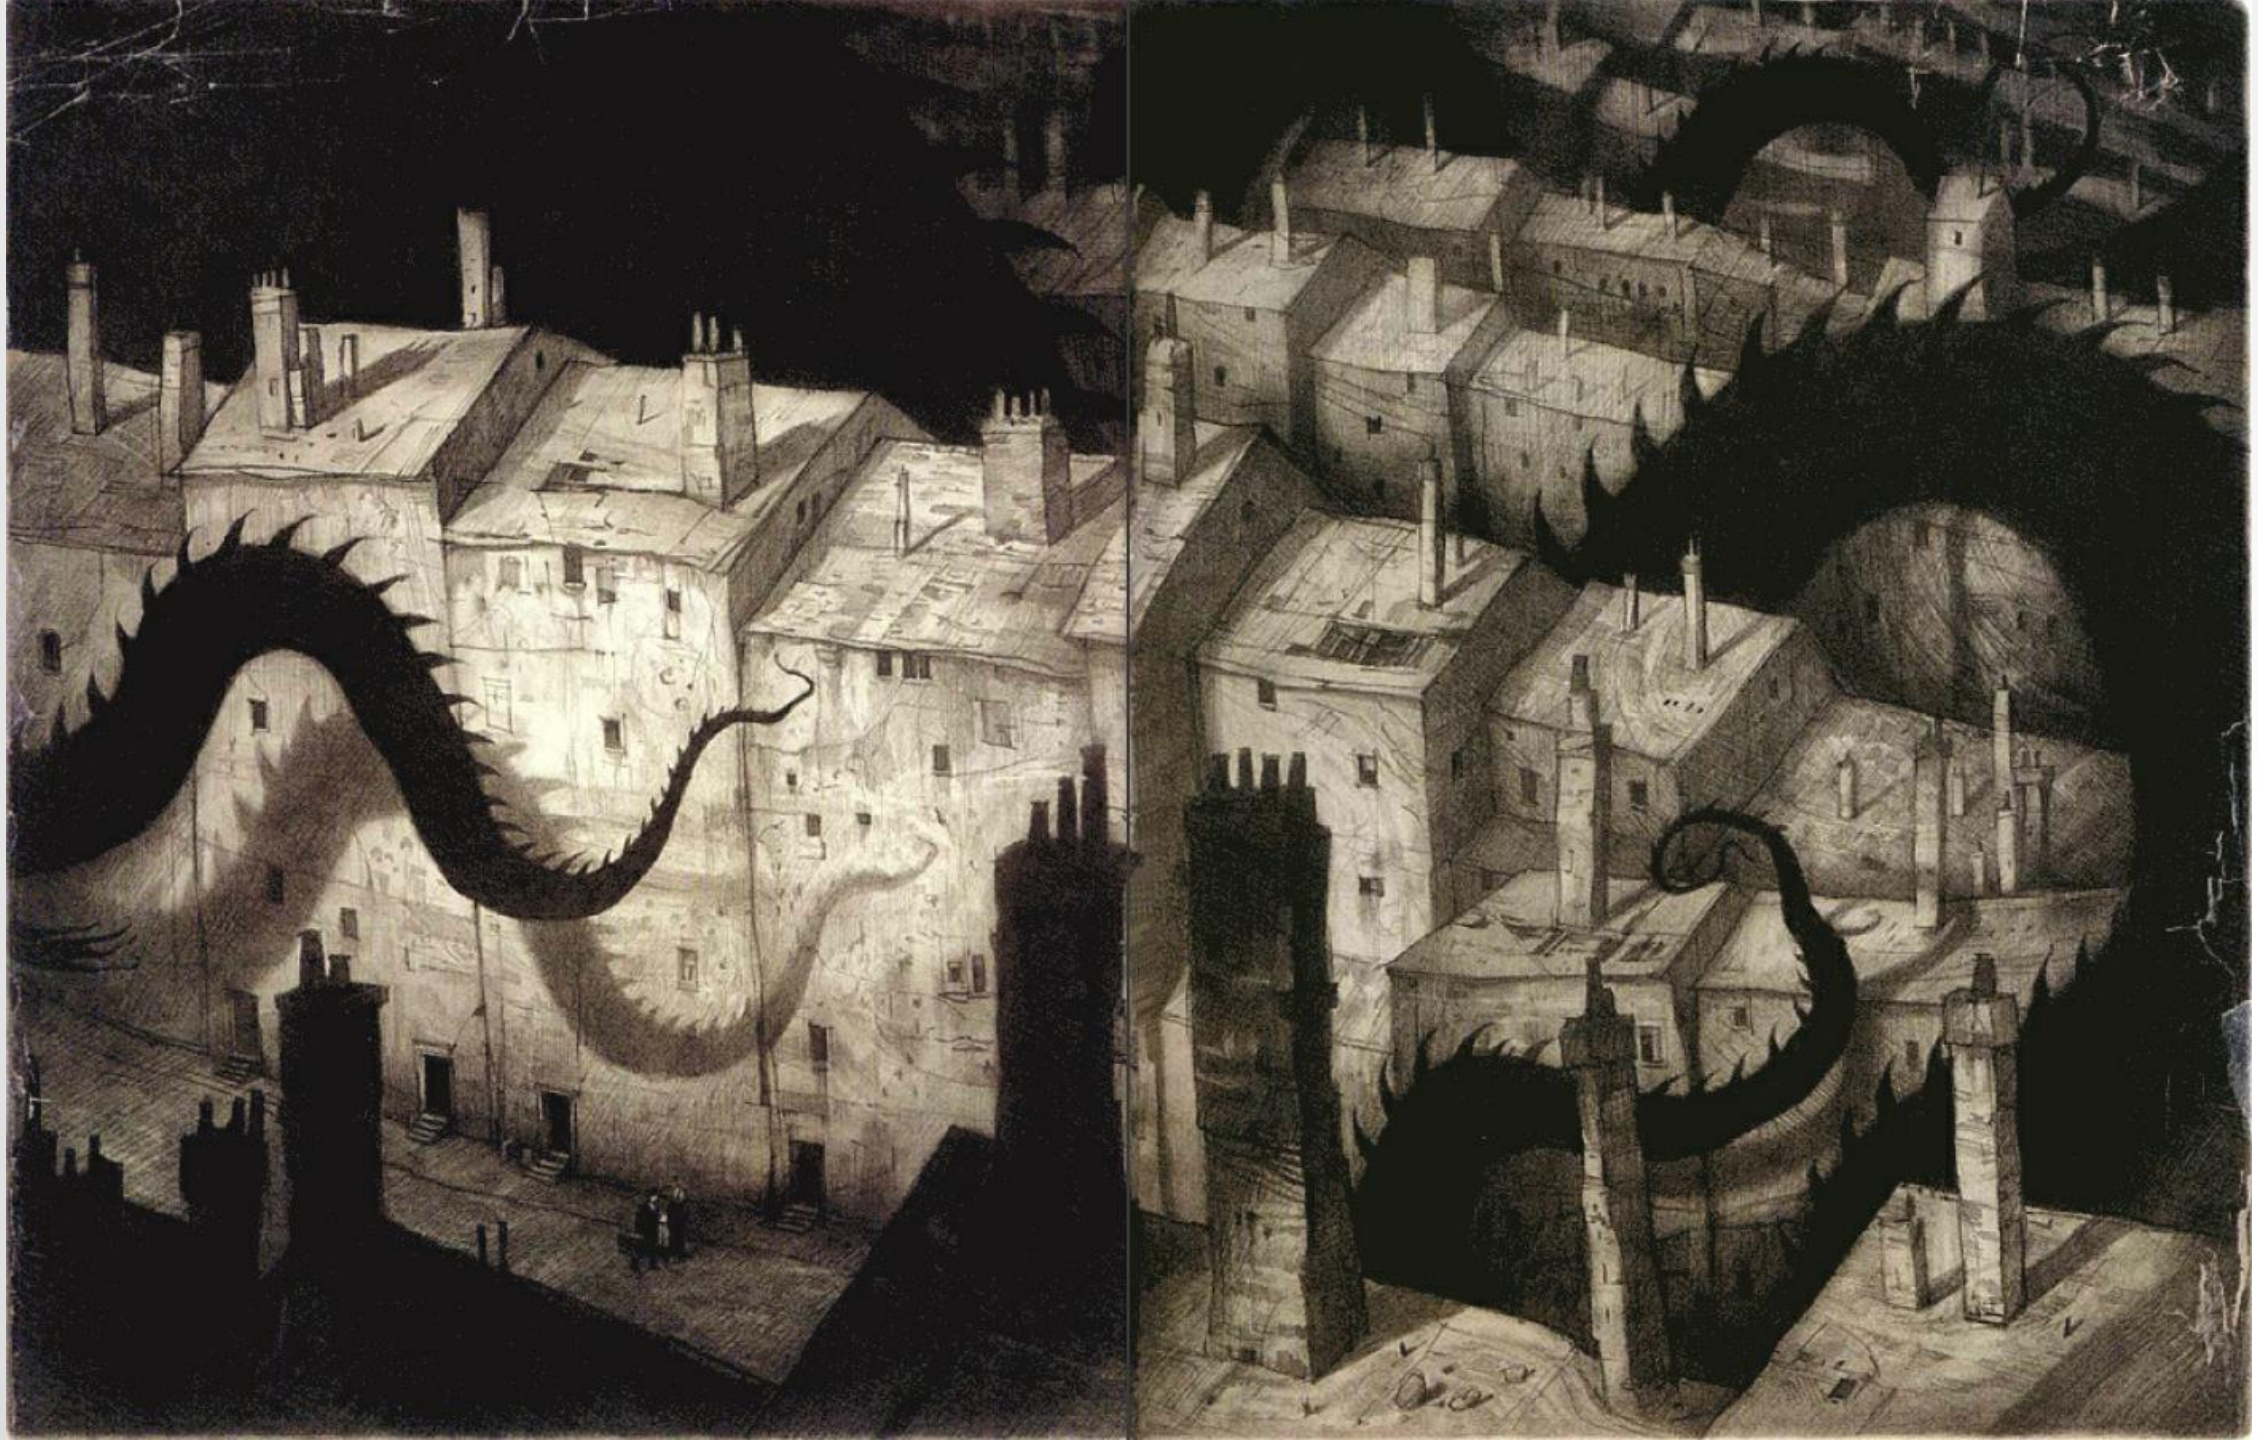
- Used to:
  - exaggerate
    - to make something sound more impressive;
    - to make something sound harder than it actually is;
    - to make someone think we are better, stronger, more resilient, have a harder life than we actually are or do;
  - make a point in the text to strengthen a feeling or impression

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Otkx

HYPERBOLE

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OtkxojsedMU&feature=youtu.be&safe=active

- Used to:
  - exaggerate
    - to make something sound more impressive;
    - to make something sound harder than it actually is;
    - to make someone think we are better, stronger, more resilient, have a harder life than we actually are or do;
  - make a point in the text to strengthen a feeling or impression



ADDING MORE TO HYPERBOLE

- Let's use the monster on the street as an example:

1. think about the feeling you want to portray;
2. scour the picture for parts of the image you could use;
3. generate words that will help to show the feeling;
4. 'get exaggerating!';
5. experiment with different sentences.

YOUR GO!

Can you create hyperbole for a reason?

think about the feeling you want to portray

scour the picture for parts of the image you could use

how can you use hyperbole to help show the feeling?

experiment with different sentences